Buisness Description

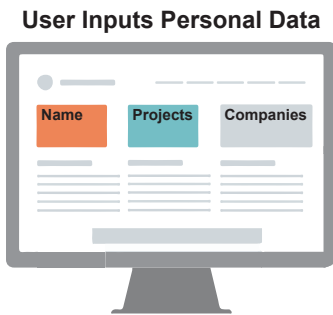

Interviewing is a neccessary step to almost every job application. Practicing for interviews greatly improves your performance, but it is often hard to know what to expect from an interview if you've never experienced one. Receiving feedback from practice interviews comes at various levels of quantity and quality.

Our product, Interview Me, is focused on streamlining the interviewing process, from question prompting to straight-forward, personalized feedback. Using our innovative web platform users are able to enter details from their resume and engage in a real-time interview with Sierra, our intelligent interviewer. Sierra uses AI and machine learning to create a personallized interview based on the users input, and prompts the user with commonly asked interview questions. At the end of the interview, Sierra will provide data and suggestions in several areas of possible improvement, including speed, confidence, personality, ownership, passiveness, lentgth of answers, and repetition.

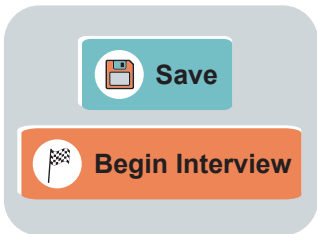

pantsuit up created this product because we often find ourself struggling to align our interview styles with the male-dominated work force. Traditionally women women exhibit cetain behaviours during interviews that can clash with current company culture, such as using we instead of I and speaking in a passive manner.

We hope that Interview Me will allow everyone to practice their interview skills and obtain useful feedback.
